By Steve McDonnell Flash Drives memory chips you can use to store music, photos and other data. Memory stores what you copy to it, even if there is no power connected. Flash drives are a faster alternative to mechanical discs, but they are usually smaller because they are more expensive than mechanical discs. Flash drives are also very portable and make a great tool to transfer files between computers or devices. To use a flash drive, locate the free USB port, insert the disc into the port, and then wait for Windows to recognize it. When you insert a flash drive, your computer assigns it a drive letter, such as E. When you download files and you're prompted to save them to a flash drive. Formatting flash memoryVv you may have to format a new flash drive before you can use it. If Windows prompts you to format the drive, click Disk Format, and then click Start. Click OK to start formatting, and then click OK when you are finished. Open File Explorer and view the flash drive and drive letter assigned to a flash drive Go to the website that contains the data files you want to download, such as amazon.com free MP3 downloads. Select the song you want to download to your computer, and you can do any other tasks, such as signing in to the site. When Windows prompts you to save the download file, scroll through the list of locations to find the flash drive and select it. Then click Save to save the downloaded file to a flash drive. Eject flash drive When you are finished downloading files to a flash drive, select the System Tray Notifications icon, and then click Safely remove hardware and eject media. Select the flash drive and wait for Windows to notify you that it is safely ejected before removing the disc from the USB port. For the holiday weekend, we wanted to provide you with a few more ways to have fun. The following sites allow you to play and download classic and retro games such as DOS games, classic adventure games and old console games. Anonymous Game Developers (AGD) Interactive AGD Interactive is a group of game developers that has committed to returning classic adventure games by redes making classic Sierra On-Line adventure games like King's Quest. They resold them using advanced graphics, polished voiceovers and many others, and now offer them as free downloads. They also have a commercial adventure game company called Himalaya Studios. VirtualNES VirtualNES offers hundreds of vintage Nintendo Entertainment System (NES) games that you can play online. They also offer some special games, such as unlicensed games by extensive developers, unrelenting who are left unfinished, and excellent home games from people who love video games and decide to make their own. NES brought home console games back to life when it came out. Nintendo8.com Nintendo8.com offers Classic 8-bit Nintendo games from the eighties and early nineties, available for online gaming. This is a link site that doesn't really accept any ROM. All games associated with the site are considered to give up dishes or copyleft. Games use the vNES emulator from the VirtualNES site mentioned above. They also have some sister sites that offer other classic console games you can play online. Snessy (SNES Games) c64 (Commodore 64 Games) DOSDose (DOS Games) Master-System8 (SEGA Games) GBemul (Gameboy Games) DOSBox offers a full DOS environment that runs ancient DOS applications on Windows, Mac OS X, Linux and other UNIX-like operating systems. It emulates an Intel x86 computer with sound, graphics, mouse, joystick, etc. needed to run many older DOS games that cannot be run on modern operating systems. They also offer dosBox frontends such as D-Fend Reloaded (discussed below) to make it easier to use DOSBox. See our article for more information on using DOSBox. D-Fend Reloaded D-Fend Reloaded is a graphical environment or interface for DOSBox. Installing and configuring DOSBox can be tricky. The D-Fend Reloaded installation package includes DOSBox, so there is only one installation to run. You do not need to install DOSBox manually before installing D-Fend Reloaded. The download page also has links to available games. You can also download PacPC, ms. PacPC and PC-Bert, who are clones of PacMan, Ms PacMan and Q-Bert. For more information on installing and using D-Fend Reloaded, please see our article about it. MAME (Multiple Arcade Machines Emulator) MAME is a nonprofit project whose goal is to save many historic arcade games so they don't disappear once the equipment they work on stops working. In order to play games on MAME, you need to provide original ROM, CDs or hard drives from arcade machines. The MAME executable does not have the original game code. There are also MAME interfaces (available at the link above) that make it easier to use, or you can use MAMEUI, which is a desktop GUI for MAME. Check out our article about playing classic arcade games on your computer for more information about MAME and MAMEUI. Some game developers have released some of their games for free, which you can download from the developer's MAME site. Abandonia Abandonia offers downloadable classic opt-out software games for DOS. Opt out of software games stop gaming programs for which there is no product support and whose copyright ownership has expired. Most games on the site have reviews, screenshots, editor rating and user rating. View and download old computer games by name, year, rating, and categories. Abandonware DOS Abandonware Games offers a large selection of opt-out software DOS games that are not supported by anyone. You can download games in categories such as action, race, RPG and strategy. They have many retro games like Super Mario World, Galaga, PacMan, Donkey Kong Classic and Sonic the Hedgehog. FreeClassicDosGames.com Classic DOS Games offers about 200 free games, most of which are accompanied by an overview, description, screenshots and download link. Types of available games include action, adventure, arcade, role-playing games, shoot-em' up, and strategy. You can view each category one by one or use the search function to find a specific game. Classic RGB RGB games Classic games offer a great combination of classic games, previously unrelted games and even a few modern DOS games. Classic RGB games are dedicated to saving classic games for unheralded PC operating systems (DOS, CPM-86, OS/2, Win16, Win9x) and makes it easy to play them on modern PCs. Almost all of the games at the RGB Classic Games were originally distributed commercially, except for a few shareware games that were extremely good. Classic RGB games concentrate on quality rather than quantity, and they also try to include every version of each game listed on the site. From the site: The highest ideals of this site are to support authors by providing links to their websites and ordering information for full versions of games that are still for sale, and encouraging the authors of classic games to save their games for future generations by making them available for sale or as free software. If you like the shareware game, please consider buying it from the author. All games at RGB Classic Games are freely distributed because they are shared, free or because the rights holder has officially and legally released all rights to the public domain (abandonware). Dos Games Archive DOS Games Archive offers an archive of 275 DOS games from the eighties and nineties that can be downloaded for free. They are collaborative, free programs, video demonstrations, and full versions of games that were released as free apps or in the public domain. Free Game Empire Free Game Empire offers classic games that you play directly in Firefox or Internet Explorer. The emulator in the browser is powered by DOSBox. They also have many forums dedicated to discussing games, blog and my games section where you can log in and find all your active games. They also offer some old games to buy that are still sold at reasonable prices. You have to download each game to your computer, but the game takes place in your browser. Each game should be downloaded only once. After that you can return to the site and play at any time. The emulator can be removed from control panel. Games for free Empire games can only be played in Windows. Play.vg Play.vg offers classic games you can play online such as PacMan and Sonic hedgehog without downloading anything to your Just use the ARROW KEYS and SPACEBAR to play games like Zork, Asteroids and Tetris. Abandonware's free download Game Free Download Game offers a large collection of free games to give up the software.
